11. Fill out the questionnaire following the requisition creation to indicate the job category.

Result:

You have created a job requisition request in Workday. From here, all student job requisitions will be reviewed by SEGAF to ensure all details are accurate.

Helpful Tips:

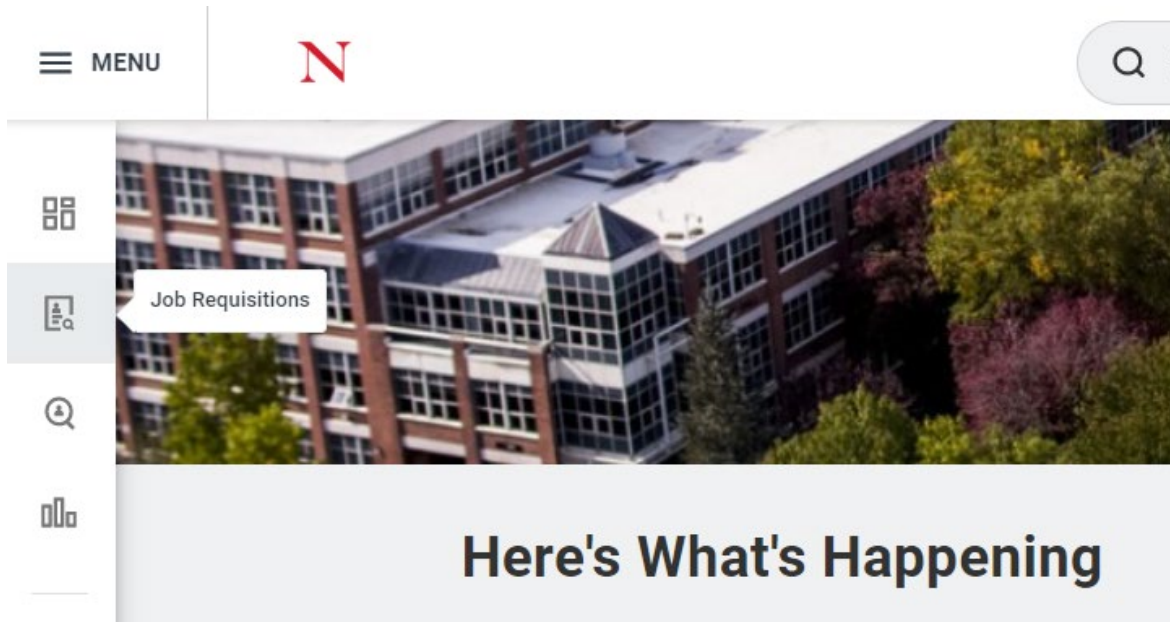

Please monitor your inbox for incomplete items and processes to complete. Pay attention to the pop up indicating next steps to orient yourself with where you are in the process, as this is only viewable for a few seconds on screen.

Once you have determined the student to hire for the position, ensure the student is in compliance and has completed (or WILL COMPLETE) their full I-9 section 1 and 2 with our office.

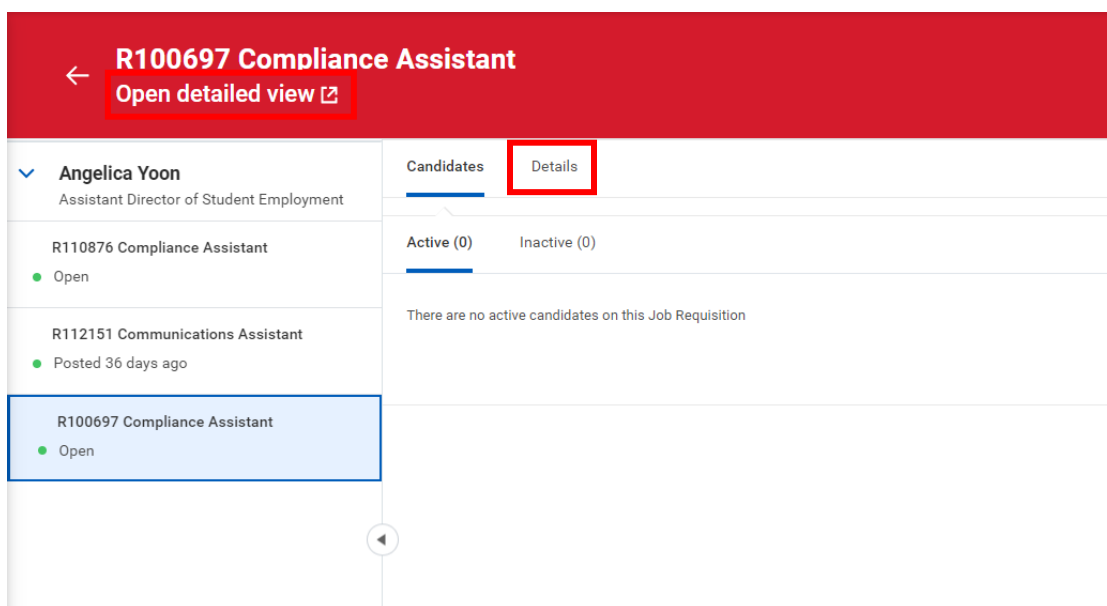

Managing Student Job Requisitions

Once your job requisition has been approved by our office, you may view, edit, post/unpost, and manage student hires.

1. Click on the Job Requisitions icon to the left of your home page on Workday.

2. You should be able to see all open job requisitions and their respective requisition number. Click on Details to see all the details of the job requisition. Click on Open detailed view to start edit and hire business actions.
 - a. Open does not equate Posted. Open means that the number of openings listed on the requisition has not been filled and can be used to continue hiring students.

Posting a Requisition

- Once in detailed view, scroll down to Job Postings. A requisition that is not currently posted will not have any available job postings. Click Post Job.
